

PUBLIC LEADER

WEEKLY PUBLISHED BY THE
DAILY PUBLIC LEADER

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1900.

PRICE—ONE CENT.

HERE AND THERE

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

A. M. Casey was last week a guest of W. L. Reynolds at Cynthiana.

Asa Adair spent last week with his grandfather, John Paul, at Dover.

Dr. A. Mannon of Augusta was in the city Saturday, en route to Tolleboro.

Mr. W. F. Thomas of the firm Murray & Thomas left Saturday for an upriver business trip.

Miss Nannie Lane will spend the holidays with her sister, Mrs. R. B. Griffith of Indianapolis.

Mrs. C. P. Marshall of Huntington, W. Va., is visiting her father, Mr. James H. Hall, of West Third street.

Mrs. Lizzie Creekman and Mrs. Margaret Barker of Ripley were guests yesterday of their sister, Mrs. William Spremberg.

Mrs. W. R. Iardella and four children of Baltimore, Md., are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lynch of the Fifth Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Russell returned Saturday evening from their bridal trip and are now at home with Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Russell, East Third street.

You can't afford to miss seeing Hoffsch's Christmas display.

Best Fireworks made as low as the lowest, all sizes, at John O'Keefe's.

After January 1st Charles E. Doyle will be General Manager of the C. and O.

Harors, beautiful in finish, warranted superior in quality. J. J. Wood & Son.

A word to the wise. See my stock of Dolls and Toys and buy early at John O'Keefe's.

Genuine Ebony Hair Brushes, Cloth Brushes and Mirrors at Chenoweth's Drugstore.

New line of Fancy Belts for Christmas presents. Mrs. L. V. Davis, No. 51 West Second.

Rev. F. L. Norton has tendered his resignation as Pastor of the Baptist Church of Cynthiana.

The Trust is "busted." They will sell for the next thirty days the famous Peach Orchard Col at $6 a bushel. DAWSON BROS.

Mr. I. M. Lane has the contract for remodeling the old Dudley property at Flemingsburg, belonging to Dr. H. C. Kehoe.

Messrs. Henry Dinger and John Derech on a hunting trip Saturday in Fleming county killed forty-three birds and twenty-seven rabbits.

Our Candy is home-made and pure, delicious to eat, beautiful to look upon. Send some for Christmas. F. H. TRAXEL CO.

Miss Lucy Walker Thornton and Mr. Ray Clifford will marry at the Second Presbyterian Church at Paris Wednesday, December 20th.

The will of John W. Baker of near Covington sets aside $20 as a bridal present for each of his children who marries. No money, no more.

J. Jas. Wood & Son offer at very low prices handsome Pictures, Artistic Paper, Envelopes and engraved Cards. Please call and try our samples of Perfumery.

Special Request.

In answering advertisements appearing in the columns of this paper, or when buying goods from a merchant whose advertisement appears in this paper, our readers are especially requested to state that they saw the advertisement in this paper. This will cost you nothing, and it will be gratefully appreciated by both the advertiser and the Editor.

Xmas gifts of all kinds at Ray's.

Gloves for Christmas at Hoffsch's.

For Xmas presents go to Chenoweth's.

Sam Peterson has been held in $50 to a charge of small larceny.

$5 saved by buying your Christmas Goods at Racket Store.

Best Candles, wholesale and retail, all kinds, at John O'Keefe's.

There were four additions to letter to the M. E. Church, South, yesterday.

Comb and Brush Cases, all kinds and prices at Chenoweth's Drugstore.

W. R. Henderson sold to Minerva Ann Hughes 14 acres on Cabin Creek for $140 cash.

See Chenoweth's line of Pocket-books, Card Cases, Cigar Cases, Traveling Cases, etc.

W. H. B. Howard has been appointed Administrator of James Murphy, with Mrs. Mary E. Galbraith surety.

Frank McCasaban, formerly of this city, is now with the Indiana House barber-shop at Cincinnati.

Oranges and Fruit of all kinds. New crop of Nuts mixed by myself. JOHN O'KEEFE.

We are rushed beyond expectation. People know where to buy Christmas goods. THE RACKET STORE.

There is nothing more appreciated for an Xmas present than a nice Guitar, Mandolin, Violin or Music Stand. At John O'Keefe's.

The city is in such an exalted state of beatitude that Judge Wadsworth now walks the Courtroom with folded arms and bowed head, pondering where the next breakfast is to come from.

Mr. John Roper and Miss Daisy Wheeler left this morning for Covington where they will be united in marriage today. They will return tomorrow evening and for the present reside at the bride's home on Front street.

The prevalence of smallpox in Cincinnati has no terrors for some Mayville people who go there to buy Christmas trinkets that are not as pretty or as cheap as can be bought from those Mayville merchants who advertise in this paper.

Miss Mamie Cooper, well known in this city and whose death at Boston was recently noticed, was Governoress in the family of a wealthy widower in that city. Miss Cooper was an accomplished scholar, and in addition to instructing the children she had entire charge of the gentleman's household, entertaining his guests in a charming way, for which it is said she was paid $200 per month. She died from pneumonia after two days illness, and at the time of her death the gentleman was absent on a business trip in Colorado.

1900—CITY TAXES—1900.

On all unpaid City Taxes that are paid by January, 1901, the penalty of 10% will be refunded. By order of City Council. JAMES W. FITZGERALD, City Treasurer.

More reading in the PUBLIC LEADER.

Can in any other paper.

See Ray's line of Xmas Pipes.

Best Bulk and Can Oysters, daily and in any quantity, at John O'Keefe's.

We have boxes for $10 filled with candy. Make appropriate Christmas gifts. F. H. TRAXEL CO.

Colored men between 18 and 35, single, who can read and write, are wanted at the Lexington Recruiting Station to enlist in the United States Army for infantry service.

Mrs. Sybil D. Casey, a former belle of Covington and in her time considered the handsomest woman in that city, the wife of Colonel Ed. Casey, died in Chicago Saturday.

Dr. Alvin Duval, a well known physician of Frankfort and son of the late Judge Duval, former Clerk of the Court of Appeals, was found dead in bed Saturday. Heart failure.

Mrs. Mary J. Busby, aged 56, died of pneumonia at her home at London, Ky. She was formerly Miss Gaylord of Hillsboro and her remains were taken to Fleming county for interment.

At Flemingsburg Mrs. Hannah Overley, who died some time since, left a will returning to Fleming County, Ky. $3,000. F. $200, the amount appropriated for her benefit during the years in which they assisted her.

Untimely Death.

Wife of Mr. Dudley C. Martin Died at Portsmouth Yesterday.

The death of Mrs. Martin, wife of Mr. Dudley C. Martin, occurred at 8:15 a. m. yesterday at their home at Portsmouth after an illness of one week.

Deceased was 27 years old, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Proctor of the Sixth Ward, three years since being united in marriage to Mr. Dudley C. Martin.

Mrs. Martin has numerous friends here who will be pained to learn of her untimely death.

The remains will be brought here this afternoon and the funeral will occur from the home of her parents on Wood street tomorrow at 1:30 p. m., with services by the Rev. Howard T. Cress of the Christian Church, assisted by the Rev. Edward Allen of Mitchell Chapel. Interment in the Mayville Cemetery.

GULLING THE GRANGERS.

Unwary Bite at a Proposition to Throttle the Trusts.

BETTER BUY HARDWARE AT HOME!

Somebody once said that a sucker was born every minute, but it looks like he had underestimated the case; for in this age of daily newspapers and schoolhouses it is surprising what a vast number of people there are always ready to "bite" at any bait that is thrown them.

While the past few weeks Mr. Slick Article has been touring Mason and adjoining counties, representing the immense wholesale hardware house of Barlow Brothers of Chicago.

His especial "mutton" was blacksmiths and country shop-keepers, and that he sang a siren song, depicting the horrors of the "Trust," telling how he robbed the poor farmer and laboring man, until his listener was ready to shed tears of joy and to shower oodles of ducats upon the noble young man who was devoting his energies to down the Octopus.

Having worked his subject up to the proper tension, Mr. Slick Article produced his bill of fare.

He offered horseshoes and horsefalls—the same that Mayville houses sell—about two-thirds the price charged by the local dealers, and other things in the same proportion—not forgetting to tell his sucker that the horse merchant was a highway robber, and that the Trust was a bigger man than the Devil.

Of course he had customers galore; and the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

This latter statement was a "cooker"—it made the sucker feel so good to have the order was "booked," the self-sacrificing benefactor would say.

"Now, my friend, as evidence of good faith on your part, my horse requires an advance of 10% on your purchase, to cover freight charges only; and my instructions are to allow also a discount of 10% for cash—but I don't want the cash for the goods and will not accept it!"

Chenoweth has a complete line of Hand Mirrors, also Shaving Mirrors.

All my Oysters are direct from first hands from Baltimore. John O'Keefe.

William Fussmiller of Ripley and Lucy Lippert of Augusta married last week.

Dr. T. Hunt Stucky of Louisville, brother of Dr. J. A. Stucky of Lexington, is mentioned among the probable candidates for Mayor of Louisville.

CAPTAIN ISAAC KELLY.

Prominent Citizen of Mt. Carmel Passed Away Yesterday.

Captain Isaac Kelly died at his home at Mt. Carmel yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, aged 84 years.

A native and Westmoreland county, Pa., he moved to this state in his young manhood and has resided at Mt. Carmel during the past fifty years.

His wife preceded him to the grave four years ago, they having spent fifty-five or fifty-eight years together in married life. One son also preceded him to the grave some eighteen months since.

One son and two daughters survive—George A., Mrs. Kate Foxworthy and Mrs. Maggie Muse, all of Mt. Carmel.

Captain Kelly had been in feeble health for two years and his death was not unexpected to his family or friends.

He was an ardent life-long Republican and a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The funeral takes place at Mt. Carmel tomorrow, at 10 o'clock, tomorrow morning. Interment at Mt. Carmel.

Anyone desiring to attend the funeral from this place notify Rev. F. W. Harp or I. M. Lane.

An attractive woman thrives on good health, sunshine, with plenty of exercise in the open air. Her form glows with health, her face beams with life and beauty. When troubled with a positive case of skin disease, write to us. We will cleanse her system of all impurities. Price, cents. J. J. Wood & Son.

LOOK FOR IT HERE

Illinois has 449,871 factory operatives.

The number of languages and dialects spoken in the world amounts to 3,064.

There has not been a divorce in Prince Edward Island, population 100,000, in thirty years.

The attempt by the Government to introduce a bill to amend the Land into Alaska has proved a failure.

There are about 100,000 Indians in the Dominion of Canada located upon reserves in different districts.

The statues of the heroes which recently adorned the naval arch are now reposing at the city dumps at New York.

Lieutenant Leonard M. Cox, United States Navy, a native of Kentucky, has been ordered to assume charge of the new naval station to be established on the island of Guam.

Depositors of the First National Bank of Newport, which failed four years ago, have brought suit against the directors to force them to pay the balance due the depositors, about $80,000.

The oldest Princess in Europe has just celebrated the 80th anniversary of her birth. This is the Duchess of Anhalt-Bernburg, who is the elder sister of the King of Denmark.

Pennsylvania and Maryland capitalists have secured options on 12,000 acres of mineral lands in Alabama and are forming a company to open mines and build furnaces and coke ovens.

Topics has opened a crusade against vice by subscribing $30,000 as a fund for the prosecution of saloon keepers. Officers of the Good Citizenship Federation will make the subscription $100,000.

The battering ram of the Romans was like the bill of a huge woodpecker, the walls of the enemy being the tree trunk. The battering ram was so called because it was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city.

The battering ram was so called because it was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city.

The battering ram was so called because it was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city.

The battering ram was so called because it was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city.

The battering ram was so called because it was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city.

The battering ram was so called because it was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city.

The battering ram was so called because it was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city.

The battering ram was so called because it was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city. It was a heavy beam of wood, with a pointed iron tip, which was used to batter down the walls of a city.

The

